The enquiry commission appointed by the provincial government to determine as far as possible the cause and effect of the recent Hillcrest disaster, opened in the Maslin Hall at Hillcrest on Thursday before His Honor Judge Carpenter of Calgary.

W. M. Campbell, crown prosecutor, of Macleod, represents the Alberta government.

Colin Macleod, of Macleod, represents the Hillcrest Collieries.

John R. Palmer, of Lethbridge, representing the miners' union, assisted by Norman Fraser, ex-provincial inspector of mines, who will give expert evidence. There are also present: G. H. Hudson, of the department of mines, Ottawa; John T. Stirling, provincial mine inspector, of Edmonton; A. J. Carter, secretary of District 18, U.M.W.; A. James Gordon, local secretary; Mr. Gresham, vice-president of District 18; and J. H. Macleod, of Montreal, president of the Hillcrest Coal Co.

The number of witnesses to give evidence has not yet been determined, nor the duration of the enquiry.

Homer Mines Are Closed Forever

Calgary, June 22.—Twelve hundred miners have been driven out of work and the town of Homer, not far from Fernie, B.C., is about to be abandoned by its population, owing to the fact that the colliery, since that point, owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, have been closed down and closed forever. The work of dismantling the machinery is well under way. Merchants and property owners in the town are almost paralyzed because their land is worthless once the mines have been closed for good—nothing being the only industry that supports the town. Rumors to the effect that the mines would be shut down had been prevalent for some time, but the citizens of the town had been living in hopes that the reports were unfounded. However, the climax came yesterday when the work of dismantling the machinery of the mines commenced, and many miners who were not burdened with families immediately left for other points.

The Homer miners have been a big disappointment from the start and the development work has been going on at a heavy loss in hopes that something would materialize. However the sense instead of widening and the conditions have been, the prospects are found to be the fact. Investigation by the mine officers in charge. Finally it was decided to close up altogether as the mining could only be done at a great loss. Whereupon twelve hundred men have been driven out of employment and the business of merchants in the city turned to failures through the summary closing of the mines.

The abandoning of Homer will make the second deserted town in that district; the town of Morley being the first town abandoned owing to the failure of the mines to pay. It is known that millions of dollars were spent in trying to relocate coal at Morley and it is understood almost as much was lost at the Homer mines by the Canadian Pacific Railway company.

FOR SALE—On July 8th. All pure-bred registered Clydesdale and a few milch cows. W. T. Eddy, Lundbreck.

Conservatives Victorious In Ontario Elections

After one of the bitterest contests in the history of Ontario politics, the herculean effort on the part of the Liberal opposition to greatly reduce the Conservative majority in the legislature, or to get into power, failed this week. What made the contest so heated was the issue which was the slogan of the Liberals, "Abolish the bar." By insistence on the fact that the prohibition of the liquor traffic in Ontario was the supreme issue in the campaign, the parties were actually aligned as for or against the prohibition of the retail trade in liquor in the province (only federal legislation can prohibit the manufacture of liquor).

As a result of the voting, which was very heavy, and especially in the rural constituencies, the Liberal opposition gained thirteen seats in the new legislature, the Conservatives gained nine seats, and the Independents ten. The new majority will be composed thus of 83 Conservatives, 26 Liberals and two Independents.

Sir James Whitney, the former premier of the province, and the leader of the government party, had his majority in Durham reduced by nearly 500. Hon. Mr. Rheaume, former minister of public works, was the only member of the former cabinet to be defeated. A three-cornered contest in Windsor resulted on the resignation and the election of Rev. J. C. Tolin, a Liberal, who is the Presbyterian minister of the town.

N. W. Russell, leader of the Liberals, had a narrow escape from defeat in his riding, North Oxford, as he was elected by only 98 majority.

Appeal is Dismissed

The appeal in the case of Irvine vs. the Western Canada Collieries, has been dismissed by the division of the supreme court. This was an action tried before his lordship Mr. Justice Scott, and the plaintiff awarded $500 for damages sustained in a coal mine. The verdict did not suit the plaintiff and he entered an appeal, which was dismissed. A. H. Clark, K.C., appeared as counsel for L. H. Putnam, who represented Macleod & Gray, of Macleod.

Neither Given Children But Not Alimony

Only part of the appeal was allowed by the appellate division of the supreme court, in the case of Lloyd vs. Lloyd. This was an action tried before his lordship Mr. Justice Scott, in which the plaintiff asked alimony from her husband and the custody of their infant children. His lordship dismissed the action, and upon appeal the mother has been allowed the custody of the children, but was not granted any alimony. The parties to the action are residents of Carleton Place. A. H. Clark, K.C., M.P., appeared for the plaintiff applicant, and L. H. Putnam, of Blairmore, and G. F. Adams, of Calgary, for the defendant.

B. McLellan, structural engineer, of Vancouver, is at present at Lundbreck looking after the setting up of drilling machinery on certain valuable oil claims just north of that town. Mr. McLellan is a man of considerable experience in the business, and is very optimistic about the possibilities of the Lundbreck fields.

The House of the Colonial Liquor Co. was recommended, subject to immediate transfer.

Postmaster-General to Increase Postage Rates On Newspapers

Ottawa, Ont., June 22.—It is announced that in order to meet the cost of the increased velocity to rail ways for the carrying of mails the post office department had decided to increase the postage on newspapers and periodicals. The present charge is one quarter of a cent per pound. It is proposed in the future to charge one cent per copy for papers delivered by letter carriers. Where there is no letter carrier service the charge will be one quarter of a cent per copy. A memorandum issued to the publishers under the authority of Hon. L. P. Follis, postmaster general, states: "The Post office department has decided that there can be no disagreement as regards Canada having the lowest postage rate in the world, and that there can be no room for difference of opinion as regards the great growth in the amount of newspapers carried by post. The association has admitted that the rate of postage on newspapers should be increased."

The postmaster general was accused of reading an agreement with the publishers and thought could be accomplished if there was no doubt about the power to do so being vested in him. It was of the opinion that this power was already vested in the postmaster general but to remove any doubt the government had made it clear that there would be no question about it. He introduced a bill to this end at the recent session of parliament. This bill passed the house of commons but was rejected by the senate. As a result of this action on the part of the senate, there is no hope now to do but to enforce the law as it stands. If a cent rate will prevail as heretofore on papers not delivered by letter carriers, but where the letter-carrier delivery is in operation a separate charge of not more than one cent a copy will be made for the delivery of newspapers by carrier. This is under section 71 of the post office act which provides that an amount not exceeding one cent shall be paid for the delivery of each newspaper by carrier.

As regards the 1/4 cent rate the law is that this rate shall be for each pound weight or any fraction of a pound weight; that is, 1/4 cent must be paid for each copy. The law does not establish a 1/4 cent rate of postage on this question of 1/4 cent for each copy must be met. The whole question of the conveyance of newspapers by post will now have to receive immediate consideration.

Vancouver Chinaman Given Life Sentence

Vancouver, June 30.—Declaring that he thought Jack Kong, the Chinese servant who killed Mrs. Chas. Milledred, and dismembered and buried her body, was guilty of murder instead of the lesser crime of manslaughter which the jury had decided was the crime, Justice Gregory today emphasized his feeling by sentencing the 17-year-old Chinaman to spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary. Under the law, a sentence means 21 years, but Kong under the sentence today must spend at least ten years within prison walls. His lordship declared he was unable to see one redeeming feature, for he regarded his crime as one of peculiar repugnance and ferocity.

Rod and Gun for July

Rod and Gun for July, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., is out with a very striking cover design, an Indian shooter in full regalia, to the ordinary reader suggestive of a vanished race, to the sportsman a reminder of the actual Canadian Indians' tournament at "Canadian Indians' Tournament" at Niagara-on-the-Lake. Within the magazine is contained an account of the recent Great International Tournament at St. Thomas, Ont. For the sportsman, tourist and lover of the out-of-doors, there is an interesting bit of fare which includes: A canoe trip from Lake Timiskaming to Lake Abitibi, an article on Newfoundland, the sportsman's paradise; the story of "An Off Week" on the outskirts of Jasper Park, Alta.; Reminiscences of fishing in Juleau Lake, two good stories, Canadian Camp and Camp and Capt. Alvin Usher Z. B. White, Galt's Fishin'. The Value of the Birds, a plea for an international treaty of protection; Bismark and how to take them; and a host of other material of the kind that renders of out-door literature enjoy.

The House of the Frank hotel has been recommended for another six weeks.

"How to Dwarf a Town"

Horse Oresby, the greatest editor the country ever had, is said to have given the following formula:

"If you want to keep a town from thriving, don't put any more buildings than you can conveniently occupy yourself. If you should accidentally have an empty building, and any one should want to rent it, and then the value of it. Demand a sky high price for every spot of ground that God has given you."

There is no more effective way to retard the growth of a town than actions like those enumerated, and there are people in every town who are pursuing the same course every day of their lives, and to whom the above remarks are respectfully offered for their consideration. "Ex-CHANGE."

Less Speed Desired

The owners of ocean liners are as conscientious and patriotic in their instructions to their captains as was the careful mother in the well known rhyme.

"Mother, may I go to swim?"
"Yes, my darling daughter, but bring your clothes on a hickory limb. But don't go near the water."

The captain is told in effect to slow enough to avoid all possibilities of collision with another ship or icebergs, but at the same time to "drive her like the d—", so as to make a faster passage than any local rival line. Under such conflicting orders, captains and officers have become shattered nervous wrecks, and when an emergency arises they are not able to cope with it as men in their position should be.

The maritime disasters of the last few months are having their effects on some of the more cautious of the world's travelers. The most popular boat to travel by last year was the swiftest line; now people are enquiring for the steamers of the line that have had fewest accidents. A quick passage across the Atlantic is very desirable, but many people from now on will not object to half a day longer on the journey, if they thereby retain additional assurance that the chances of loss of life has been reduced to a minimum. The speedy and daring captain, who is never far from being a neurotic wreck, will not attract in future as much as will the cool and cautious commander, who will place the safety of his passengers above speed records.—St. John's Trade Review.

Crossed Too Late To See Their "Dad"

"For men must work and women must weep," Little Mrs. James Bradshaw, speaking as fast as the train could carry her to Hillcrest, Alberta, learned the saddest part of the old saying, for her husband was among those who were entombed in the Hillcrest mine. As the result of the disaster two young sons and a daughter waited to break the sad news to the little mother and to make up for her in every way possible for the death of him who was among the first to be carried out when the work of rescue was begun.

With light hearts Mrs. Bradshaw and her children said goodbye to the home land. The steamer had fair weather and the trip was "great fun." When Quebec was reached joyful hearts gave forth songs, the first news of the capture of the Hillcrest mine being received there. The voyage from Quebec to Montreal was one of great suspense. Here, James Conley, a friend from home, met the family at the Montreal landing and gently told them that the father was entombed and perhaps lost. They should bear themselves bravely; however, for he still might be saved. The straw was eagerly grasped at and then buoyed up, the mother and her three little wide-eyed boys of seven, nine and 11 years, left the winter station a few hours later on the Canadian Pacific train for western Canada.

They did not know then that the name of James Bradshaw headed the list of the workers whose lifeless bodies had been taken out of the mine and identified.

Fit Alberta Teachers to Teach Domestic Science

Alberta teachers are now in a position to help themselves for teaching Domestic Science in the schools of the province. The agricultural high schools are putting on special courses for teachers. The following circular letter sent out by W. J. Stephens, principal of the high school of agriculture, tells all that is to be done.

The Provincial School of Agriculture, at Charlottetown, wishes to announce that a course in Household Science will be given to ladies holding qualified teachers' certificates for the Province of Alberta, commencing October 27, of this year. This course will enable teachers to teach household science in any school in the province. Those holding second grade certificates and having completed the normal course, by taking two winter terms in the school of agriculture will be household science specialists. Those having completed the 11th grade work in the high school may take this course of household science and will be entitled to teach this rank, in any of the schools, after they have completed the normal course.

In addition to the household science specialists' course, the school will offer a course for young ladies who do not intend to teach, but who are desirous of obtaining a training that will better equip them for their duties in their homes. To take this course, no special educational qualifications are necessary. The course of study is a thoroughly practical one, and it gives under the direction of the Minister of Agriculture, the Hon. Duncan Marshall, and the Board of Agricultural Directors. There are no fees in connection with this course, and the only expense girls will be put to, will be for books, and for room and board, which can be obtained in most respectable families in the town of Charlottetown.

Anyone desiring to attend the school this fall should communicate at once with the principal. Calendar and application forms will be mailed upon request.

Victims of The Hillcrest Disaster

The following is clipped from the Westville Free Lance:

William Neath was a young man of 22 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Neath. He leaves a widow (see below) and one child. He was a man of clean life and splendid character, and a general laborer in Westville. He took a keen interest in education and was a member of Forest of Dean Lodge, No. 10, of England, Westville.

His wife, second youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace, was twenty years of age. He only went West a few months ago, and his death at a period when his life is expected to be cut short was a deep young man, and prior to leaving Westville was a member of St. Philip's Church. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace feel the death of their son and their only son very keenly.

Mr. Henry had been in the West for about a year. He was in poor health when he left Westville, and through the change of air would prove beneficial. He had been in the West for some time in public offices in the home town. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry, Westville.

Mr. Henry was a native of English-ton, C.B., but made his home in Westville for several years before he went west. He was the son of a farmer and had four children, two by his first wife and two by his second.

number of Nova Scotians killed at 22. It will be seen that Westville was hard hit in that respect. The same is true of Springfield and Glace Bay.

In the list of dead is the name of a third boy, called J. Quigley. It is mentioned that he was a cousin of James and Tom Quigley, sons of James Quigley, of Coleman, Alta.

James White, son of James E. White, working in the Hillcrest mine last week, says that he did not see him on Friday.

A telegram from Hillcrest with the following news was received on Friday.

Mr. James F. Quigley came to Westville from Scotland some twenty odd years ago. He was smart, ambitious and a worker. He was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Quigley, and a son of the late Thomas Quigley who died at Macleod, C.B., some years ago. "Jimmy" as he was generally known, took up the study of mining and was successful in securing positions overseas, underground work as miner and manager. He left Westville and worked in an official capacity in London and afterwards came to Westville. He was mine superintendent at Hillcrest, where he was highly esteemed by management and men. He was about forty-two years of age. He leaves a widow and several children. Mr. Quigley was a member of the Masonic fraternity.

James Quigley was a brother of James F. Quigley. He worked in Westville mine for some years. He was about 35 years of age and leaves a widow. Among the names of the dead is that of John Hood. It is believed he hailed from Ballarat. It is also said that George Haldane, who was a hotelkeeper who worked in the Stellarton mine, some years ago.

A memorial service was held in the Methodist church on Sunday night, when Rev. W. T. Young preached an interesting sermon. Special music and hymns were rendered by the choir. The quartette by Miss Simpson, Mrs. Dicken, Messrs. W. Simpson and Sam Paton was very appropriate.

A pleasant send-off was accorded Mr. Baker, the local school principal, on the occasion of his leaving for his summer holidays. The affair took place at the Methodist church on Tuesday evening, a large number of his friends being present. Mr. Baker will return to Frank in time for the re-opening of the school.

THE BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD

"My little girl had dysentery very bad. I thought she would die. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured her, and I can truthfully say that I think it is the best medicine in the world;" writes Mrs. William C. Case, Mich. For sale by all dealers.

A football match will probably take place here on Saturday, July 10th, between Frank and Bellevue teams, in aid of the Hillcrest relief fund. Every one should attend this game and give whatever assistance they can to the worthy cause, which will be highly appreciated. Further announcement later.

Frank had Michel at home on Wednesday in the league engagement. The kick-off took place at 2.30 in the afternoon under the scorching sun. The game was not of a very interesting character, although there was considerable excitement at times. Frank seemed to be able to handle the visitors as they wished, and after scoring the second goal took things a little mild. Both Hutton and Gordon scored for Frank, the game ending 2-0.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

W. D. Magill, a well known merchant of Whitehorse, Wis., bought a stock of Chamberlain's medicine so as to be able to supply them to his customers. After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock of these medicines. For sale by all dealers.

How's Business?

Advertising, backed up by the right spirit, the right goods and the right service, can rescue a sinking business and will make a prosperous business more material in its own community.

When John Wannamaker, the Prince of Merchants, began business, he resolved to force matters. He was not content to WAIT to be found out—he DETERMINED TO BE found out. In short, he advertised. He threw on his business, small as it was, the light of publicity, and the public of Philadelphia entered the shop on which the light shone.

In this community the public is entering those shops on which the light of advertising is falling.

Centre of Earth not A Molten Mass

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—Ancient and popular beliefs that the core of the earth is a molten mass have been disproved by scientists of the University of Chicago, who have announced to the world that the planet is more rigid than steel, that it could not explode or be destroyed by a fire within itself.

The results of their experiments will be published in the Astrophysical Journal and the Journal of Geology.

The experiments were designed by Professor Albert A. Michelson, head of the department of physics, at the instigation of Professor T. C. Chamberlain of the department of geology, and F. R. Moulton of the department of astronomy.

"The experiments," Professor Michelson said, "show that the interior of the earth is not a fiery mass, but rotates the tidal force of the moon about it as it would if the earth were made of solid ice. Nevertheless, the earth, in spite of its rigidity, behaves as an elastic body, it creaks, of course, but still subjects the same influences as are the oceans which form a part of it."

"That the solid surface of the earth is subject to the same sub and flow as are the tides of the ocean, although to a lesser extent, is a statement that will astonish the average person, who is prepared to accept with all the assurance of conviction that the earth is an immovable body. The fact that there are tides of about a foot in the surface of the earth has been regarded as a scientific fact."

Archimedes, a Greek philosopher, some 500 years before the Christian era, advanced the theory that the interior of the earth was a molten mass. The theory was accepted by philosophers, scientists and theologians who followed him.
